Notes: In this case ethnic data is recorded according to the categorisation system used within the 1991 Census to allow comparison. The ethnic categorisation system used for the Census 2001 is different. This means that a number of figures from 2001 ethnic data have been aggregated, dis-aggregated or re-categorised. In particular, it should be noted that the 1991 census did not record 'mixed' ethnic groups. All individuals within 'mixed' ethnic groups from the 2001 census are, in this case, included in the 'other' section. More detailed and up to date information regarding ethnic structure in 2001 can be found elsewhere within the Borough profile and associated data sources.

Notes: 1991 Census information is, in this case, based upon a 10% sample count multiplied by 10 to achieve an approximate 100% count whereas the 2001 census information is a true 100% count. In addition, occupations were classified slightly differently under each heading. Therefore, while the data recorded here broadly summarises the numbers and types of occupation recorded within each census so as to facilitate comparison, it is identical to neither classificatory system.
